

The task of coordinating the joint-seminar of German and American students is masterfully handled by Julia Würtz of the ASKO EUROPA STIFTUNG. For over a week, A&M and HTW students will work closely with Julia as she coordinates the modular exercises and various learning tasks of the joint-seminar at the European Academy Otzenhausen. Working closely with Professor Mario Glowik of the Technical University of the Saarland, and Professor Robertson, Julia will ensure a rewarding and challenging cross-cultural learning program for the Summer European Academy, a role she has mastered with great skill since 2004.

Julia brings strong experience to the program and joint-seminar. She received her Masters Degree in Political Science, and her Masters Degree in Education from the Johann Wolfgang Goethe University, in Frankfurt (Main). She has been a trainee at the European Parliament, Brussels, Belgium and a Trainee at the Friedrich Ebert-Foundation in Hungary, Budapest.

She is the Project Leader Europe for International Relations at the ASKO EUROPE-FOUNDATION, Saarbrücken, Germany. She has served as an Assistant for Democratization and Domestic Peace, Peace Research Institute, in Frankfurt (Main), Germany; Assistant EU-Program XENOS, Educational Centre Deutsche Bahn, in Frankfurt (Main), Germany; and has been responsible for social issues and political education of the student parliament at The Johann Wolfgang Goethe-University, Frankfurt (Main).

Julia is well connected within the network of Young Europeanists. She is a member of the Executive Bureau of the Young European Federalists Germany, Berlin; President of the Young European Federalists Saarland, Saarbrücken; Member of the Executive Bureau, Europa Union Saarland, Saarbrücken, Germany; Member of the European Movement Germany, Berlin; and Board Member of trustees for the European Academy Otzenhausen, Otzenhausen, Germany.
