

The China Archive at Texas A&M University proudly announces:

Event: Graduate Student Workshop on Empirical Social Science Research on China

Date: January 9-11, 2006

Location: Texas A&M University campus

The purpose of this workshop is to introduce multiple types of quantitative data and data collection methods, as well as the purpose and holdings of The China Archive. Lectures will be made by well-known China researchers on data and data collection methods for study of demography, political participation and communications. Participants include Dudley Poston (Department of Sociology, Texas A&M); Tianjian Shi (Department of Political Science, Duke University & Texas A&M) and Ian Weber (Department of Communication, Texas A&M). Papers will be presented by student volunteers. Please submit one-page proposals to Dr. Robert Harmel in the Department of Political Science, Texas A&M University at 4348 TAMU, College Station, TX 77843-4348 or email 339rh@polisci.tamu.edu. Participation in the workshop is free but all personal expenses (travel, lodging, meals, etc.) are the responsibility of each participant. All graduate students, regardless of university or field, are welcome to attend. To register or for more information, contact Program in the Cross-National Study of Politics, Political Science Department, Texas A&M University, 4348 TAMU, College Station, TX 77843-4348 or email jsmith@polisci.tamu.edu.

The Graduate Student Workshop on Empirical Social Science Research on China is a joint project of The China Archive and the College of Liberal Arts at Texas A&M University; assistance provided by the Program in the Cross-National Study of Politics.